PERSONAL STATEMENT

Web Designer, Developer, Visionary.
My mind is a fusion of coding and creativity. I am an imaginative and passionate professional who likes to visualize creative solutions and draw on technical expertise to bring them to life. I pride myself on an excellent work ethic, enthusiasm and the adaptability to deliver technical turnarounds, through both hands-on development and technical leadership.

I have extensive experience in Web design & Development, Graphic Design, Social Marketing, Branding, UI/UX Design and Development. As a firm believer in personal and professional development, I am constantly expanding my skills set, most recently with iOS Appswith Swift and Android Apps design and development.

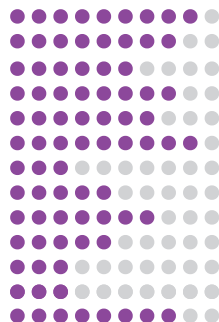

My professional experience includes working independently as a freelancer, as part of a global multifunctional team and currently as an offshore Web Designer for a South African company in Serbia, where I specialize in all types of web and print design, front-end Joomla and more. A diverse portfolio of clients has shaped me into practical, communicative and well organized, team player and leader. My professional commitment is to creating robust, well-crafted and innovative solutions, while growing through ongoing experience and training. At the same time, my professional ambition is to discover new clients, challenges and cultures around the world.
